1. Product Overview

The purpose of this Pricing Guide is to provide documentation with regards to pricing Sprint International Taiwan (“Sprint Taiwan”) End to End International Private Line (IPL) service between Taiwan and selected countries around the world.

Sprint Taiwan End to End IPL service provides for two-way simultaneous transmission of digital signals at speeds ranging from 64 Kbps up to 155 Mbps (STM1). Dedicated, non-switched circuits connecting two customer locations provide exclusive transport capacity for a customer’s voice, data, and / or video traffic. Circuits are dedicated to the customer and are not shared among multiple users. Sprint Taiwan End to End IPL service is provided at fixed monthly rates and is available for the customer’s use 24 hours per day, 7 days per week.

2. End to End IPL services

3. Pricing

3.1 Pricing Components

Pricing for End to End IPL service consists of three components:

- a) Taiwan originating access;
- b) International facilities;
- c) Access in the terminating country.

Pricing for Taiwan originating access is determined in conjunction with the local access provider. To provide connectivity from Sprint Taiwan's node to the customer premises, Taiwan local access will be provided by a licensed local access carrier.

Sprint Taiwan arranges with the local access provider for local access on behalf of the customer.

NOTE: Customers have the option of obtaining local access on their own. It is not required that they go through Sprint Taiwan for this service.

Pricing for the international facilities is provided here. Pricing for terminating access will vary by location and is available upon request.

NOTE: In the event of a rate change now or in the future, the customer will be charged the rate agreed to in the customer contract.
